DOCUMENT RESUME

ED 067 122 LI 003 867

AUTHOR	Marcus, Pauline, Comp.
TITLE	Women: A Selected Bibliography of Books.
INSTITUTION	City Univ. of New York, N.Y. Herbert H. Lehman Coll.
PUB DATE	May 72
NOTE	24p.; (141 References)
EDRS PRICE	MF-$0.65 HC-$3.29
DESCRIPTORS	Annotated Bibliographies; Anthropology; Biographies; Books; Economic Status; *Females; Feminism; History; Psychology; Sociology

ABSTRACT

The titles included in this annotated bibliography have been chosen with the hope that they will be helpful in offering insight into the Women's Movement in America today. While most of the titles are American and contemporary, there are a substantial number of works with some historical perspective. Selections have been divided into seven categories to assist the reader: General Works, Feminism Today, History and Condition-U.S., History and Condition-Other Countries, Sociology-Anthropology, Psychology, Economic and Legal Status, Biography. All books annotated were in the Herbert H. Lehman College Library collection as of March 1, 1972. (Author/SJ)

U S DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION & WELFARE
OFFICE OF EDUCATION
THIS DOCUMENT HAS BEEN REPRODUCED EXACTLY AS RECEIVED FROM THE PERSON OR ORGANIZATION ORIGINATING IT. POINTS OF VIEW OR OPINIONS STATED DO NOT NECESSARILY REPRESENT OFFICIAL OFFICE OF EDUCATION POSITION OR POLICY

ED 067122

WOMEN:

A Selected Bibliography of Books

Compiled by Pauline Marcus
Education Librarian

May, 1972

LI 003 867

Herbert H. Lehman College Library

FILMED FROM BEST AVAILABLE COPY

INTRODUCTION

The titles included in this bibliography have been chosen with the hope that they will be helpful in offering insight into the Women's Movement in America today. While most of the titles are American and contemporary, there are a substantial number of works with some historical perspective.

Selections have been divided into seven categories to assist the reader: General Works, Feminism Today, History and Condition-U.S., History and Condition-Other Countries, Sociology-Anthropology, Psychology, Economic and Legal Status, Biography. An asterisk (*) before a title indicates that it is very useful, a classic or a future classic.

All books annotated were in the library collection as of March 1, 1972. Other books have been added since then and this collection will continue to grow. For further information and new titles, look under the heading Woman in the subject catalog.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

General Works 1

Feminism Today 4

History and Condition - U.S. 7

History and Condition - Other Countries 11

Sociology - Anthropology 12

Psychology 15

Economic and Legal Status 16

Biography 19

GENERAL WORKS

ALLEN, DAVID. The Price of Women. New York, Jarrow Press, 1971. HQ 1154 .A63
The author presents his thesis that "What is needed is not more equality or greater freedom for the female, but more responsibility from her". With this in mind, he presents a well thought out, readable inquiry into the possibilities available for woman to "maximize her potential".

* BEAUVOIR, SIMONE DE. The Second Sex. New York, Knopf, 1953. 396 B38.6s
The view that women have been forced to occupy a secondary place in the world of men is presented in this now classic work on women's historical and contemporary place in the Western world. A must reading for anyone interested in the women's movement.

BIER, WILLIAM C. Women in Modern Life. New York, Fordham University, 1968. HQ 1420 .I55
A collection of essays from a Catholic viewpoint on topics such as woman in theology, the married woman, and the single woman.

CHABAUD, JACQUELINE. The Education and Advancement of Women. Paris, UNESCO, 1970. AS 4 .U8A15 ED701 D.551A
A report of a study of the problem of "advancement of women through access to education" also explains what UNESCO is doing to achieve this goal.

DAVIS, ELIZABETH GOULD. The First Sex. New York, Putnam's, 1971. HQ 1121 D37 1971
Based on the thought that "the further back one traced man's history, the larger loomed the figure of woman" the author develops, with historic perspective, a picture of women from the ancient times to now in an effort to repudiate the myth of feminine inferiority. Scholarly work with good notes.

FAIRCHILD, JOHN E. Women, Society and Sex. New York, Sheridan House, 1952. HQ 1111 .C6
A collection of lectures delivered at the Cooper Union forum on women, this has articles on "Momism", Women in Politics, Women Without Men, etc.

* GODWIN, MARY (WOLLESTONECRAFT). The Rights of Women by Mary Wollestonecraft and The Subjection of Women by John Stuart Mill. New York, E.P. Dutton, 1929. With a helpful introductory essay by George Cotten, a one volume edition of two classic works is presented Mary Wollestonecraft's work, published in 1792 is a milestone in the literature on social and political aspects of women's rights. 396.2 G54r

HARBESON, GLADYS EVANS. Choice and Challenge for the American Woman. Cambridge, Mass., Schenkman, 1967. In this scholarly essay on the American woman, or more properly, the educated American woman, the author delineates the options open and the opportunities for self-fulfillment for women in the home, employment and society. Contains an interesting appendix of selected readings on sex roles, images of women, British women, Soviet women and Swedish women. HD 6058 .H32

JANEWAY, ELIZABETH. Man's World, Women's Place: a Study in Social Mythology. New York, Morrow, 1971. HQ 1154 .J3
A calm tone and mature outlook pervade this discussion of alternatives open to women in today's world and within the current social structure.

KEY, ELLEN. The Renaissance of Motherhood. New York, Source Book Press, 1970. HQ 1206 K4413 1970
Originally written in 1914, this brief for motherhood presents ideas, some at variance with the Women's Movement today, on women and morals, motherliness and education for motherhood.

LENIN, VLADIMIR. The Emancipation of Women. New York, International Publishers, 1969. HX 546 L4313
Excerpts from his writings illustrate Lenin's belief that the emancipation of women is dependent on the struggle for socialism.

LENIN, VLADIMIR. Woman and Society. New York, International Publishers, 1938. 396.0947 L54w
A collection of Lenin's speeches on woman's place in the socialist revolution as, for example, the Soviet government has "completely abolished the source of bourgeois filth, repression and humiliation - divorce proceedings."

LUNDBERG, FERDINAND. Modern Woman: the Lost Sex. New York, Harper, 1947. 396 L97m1
A general "psychosocial" study of women and the historical changes that have affected their lives, not for better, but for worse. Includes a bibliography.

* MILL, JOHN STUART. The Subjection of Women. Cambridge, Mass., M.I.T., 1970. HQ 1596 .M52 1970
Although written over a century ago, Mill's classic essay provides a strong philosophic rationale for the women's movement today.

O'NEILL, WILLIAM L. The Women Movement: Feminism in the United States and England. New York, Barnes and Noble, 1969. HQ 1426 .093
Each original document is preceded by an explanatory introduction in this collection of essays by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Carrie Chapman Catt, the National American Woman Suffrage Association and others.

* PATAI, RAPHAEL. Women in the Modern World. New York, Free Press, 1967. HQ 1154 .P37
In a series of articles written by eighteen women, three men and a team of two men and one woman, a survey of the changes in the status of women since World War II is presented. Individual countries are examined in detail, from those of the Muslim Middle East to Afro-Asia, to the Communist East and the Western nations.

REED, EVELYN. Problems of women's liberation; a Marxist approach. New York, Pathfinder Press, 1971. HQ 1122 .R42 1971
In this slim volume, the author gives historic as well as contemporary analysis of the "newly awakened woman" and her destiny in the "world socialist revolution".

REEVES, NANCY. Woman Kind: Beyond the Stereotypes. Chicago, Aldine-Atherton, 1971. HQ 1154 .R44
A comprehensive study, the first part of this work offers insight into stereotypes and assumptions about women. The second section contains essays on topics such as domestic relations, employment and the psychology of women by Erikson, Freud, Caroline Bird, Talcott Parsons, Margaret Mead and others. Includes a classified, annotated bibliography.

ROSSI, ALICE S. Essays on Sex Equality: John Stuart Mill and Harriet Taylor Mill. Chicago, University of Chicago, 1970. HQ 1154 .R745
A compendium of all the known writings by Harriet Taylor and John Stuart Mill on the topic of sex equality, this includes a scholarly interpretive essay by the editor.

* ROSZAK, BETTY AND THEODORE. Masculine/Feminine. New York, Harper, 1969. HQ 1154 .R75
"He is playing masculine. She is playing feminine." Essays in this collection are an attempt to trace sexual stereotypes as they influence us in modern times. Includes work by Strindberg, Havelock Ellis, Karen Horney, Robin Morgan and others as well as a "collection of Women's Liberation Manifestoes". Contains a well-annotated bibliography.

SHOWALTER, ELAINE. Women's Liberation and Literature. New York, Harcourt, 1971. HQ 1121 .S54
Including excerpts from historical, psychological, and sociological works about women, this collection has questions for discussion at the end of each selection. Selections include work by John Stuart Mill, Ibsen, Sylvia Plath, Betty Friedan and Kate Millet. Contains a useful list of topics for short and long papers.

WATKINS, MEL, ed. To Be a Black Woman. New York, Morrow, 1970. E 185 .86 .W38
A collection of almost forty pieces about, but not by black women (only one third are by women) represents poetry, drama, fiction and factual essays on the historic and the present day black woman. Includes selections by Maya Angelou, Billie Holiday and Lena Horne.

WOOLF, Virginia. A Room of Ones Own. New York, Harcourt, 1957. PN 471 .W6
Originally published in 1929, this group of writings makes a plea for the privacy and independence women need.

ADAMS, ELSIE AND MARY LOUISE BRISCOE. Up Against the Wall Mother: On Women's Liberation. Beverly Hills, Calif. Macmillan, 1971. HQ 1154 .A32
It is accepted by many that "women are oppressed". In this collection of wide-ranging essays, e.g., Freud, John Stuart Mill, Eve Merriam, Frederich Engels, Sinclair Lewis, Caroline Bird, the justification for, adjustment to and the fight against this oppression are clarified. Includes a helpful bibliography and list of names and addresses of current women's organizations.

AMUNDSEN, KIRSTEN. The Silenced Majority: Women and American Democracy. Englewoood Cliffs, N.J., Prentice-Hall, 1971. HQ 1426 .A68
"A democracy ought not to fear its majority" according to this political scientist looking at the "woman question" in America while considering the problems of institutional sexism for the American woman and a vision of a more liberated society.

CADE, TONI,ed. The Black Woman. New York, New American Library, 1970. E 185 .86 .C28
A representative, readable collection of essays by and about black women: the college woman, the ghetto girl, the pill and the black revolution are among the topics discussed.

COOKE, JOANNE, ed. The New Women. New York, Bobbs-Merrill, 1970. HQ 1426 .C65
In a collection of essays and poems which grew out of the Methodist Student Movement publication "Motive", the editor has attempted to show women as they are today -- blacks, housewives, young women, lesbians and W.I.T.C.H.'S.

DE CROW, KAREN. The Young Woman's Guide to Liberation. New York, Bobbs-Merrill, 1971. HQ 1154 .D37
Written by a regional director of the National Organization for Women (NOW), this up-to-date view of women's lot explores alternatives to the "house in the suburbs" culture for which the institutions of "dating, love and marriage" prepare the American woman.

DECTER, MIDGE. The Liberated Woman and Other Americans. New York, Coward, 1971. HQ 1426 .D4
A collection of essays and reviews written by a woman about being a woman, politics and the American scene of the sixties. Contemporary in tone, these essays show how a woman can be interested in other than "women's topics".

FIRESTONE, SHULAMITH. The Dialectic of Sex: The Case for Feminist Revolution. New York, Morrow, 1970. HQ 1426 .F68
A founder of the New York Radical Feminists offers a serious discussion of the historical, sociological and psychological bases for the oppression of women with reference to childhood, love, male culture and the class struggle. Finally, she shows the way toward the "ultimate revolution" and a new life style.

* FRIEDAN, BETTY. The Feminine Mystique. New York, W.W. Norton, 1963. 396 F91f
Written by a president of NOW as an examination of the "happy housewife" syndrome and a proposal of a "new life plan" for women, this was the first major work of the women's liberation movement of the 1960's.

GORNICK, VIVIAN AND BARBARA K. MORAN. Women in Sexist Society: Studies in Power and Powerlessness. New York, Basic Books, 1971. HQ 1154 .G63
Thirty essays are included in this anthology of work by activist women, e.g., Kate Millett and Shulamith Firestone. A serious, sometimes scholarly collection.

* GREER, GERMAINE. The Female Eunuch. London, MacGibbon and Kee, 1970. HQ 1206 .G77
An attempt at "a continuing dialogue between the wondering women and the world" becomes a series of enlightening statements about the body, soul and emotions of women. Part of the "second feminist wave", this is a call for the liberation of women through their own self-knowledge. Contains helpful bibliographic notes by the author, a major force in the women's liberation movement.

HOBBS, LISA. Love and Liberation. New York, McGraw-Hill, 1970. HQ 1154 .H58
A book written by a journalist and written well is this personal view of women in today's America. Lisa Hobbs is a woman whose desire is for "female liberation and not merely to raise hell." She is aware that "I am a woman. But a woman in a man's world".

* HOLE, JUDITH AND ELLEN LEVINE. The Rebirth of Feminism. New York, Quadrangle, 1971. HQ 1426 .H67
A thorough analysis and a necessary book for any study of today's feminist movement refers to politics, morality, economics, theology, psychology and almost every aspect of American society. This includes much factual information, both historic and contemporary data and documents from the movement. Contains an extensive annotated, classified bibliography.

MAILER, NORMAN. The Prisoner of Sex. Boston, Little, Brown, 1971. HQ 1154 .M33
Mailer's attack on Kate Millett's Sexual Politics offers a variant, albeit highly personalized view of the "liberated sex".

* MILLETT, KATE. Sexual Politics. Garden City, New York, Doubleday, 1970. HQ 1154 .M5
The work of D.H. Lawrence, Henry Miller, Norman Mailer, Jean Genet, Sigmund Freud and Erik Erikson is discussed as a reflection of the concept of power and domination by the male in contemporary society. A modern classic, this contains a helpful, classified bibliography.

MITCHELL, JULIET. Woman's Estate. New York, Pantheon, 1971. HQ 1154 .M53 1972
An examination of what the author views as the "most public revolutionary movement" ever--women's liberation--with special attention to its historic background, its politics, its problems and its future.

* MORGAN, ROBIN. Sisterhood is Powerful. New York, Random House, 1970. HQ 1426 .M85
For an overall view of the current movement for women's liberation, this collection of over fifty contemporary essays by the famous, e.g., Kate Millett and the not so famous, the young, e.g., Women's Collective of the High School Students Union, and the old is probably a best bet. Includes a classified annotated bibliography and lists of films, abortion counseling services and women's liberation organizations arranged by city.

PECK, ELLEN. The Baby Trap. New York, Bernard Geis, 1971. HQ 1206 .P398
Although lacking an index or bibliography, this popularized attempt at debunking the "motherhood" mystique succeeds and offers much factual information on alternative life styles.

REISCHE, DIANE ed. Women and Society. New York, H. W. Wilson, 1972. HQ 1426 .R45
A collection of articles from recent newspapers and magazines offers representative views on women's liberation, status, employment, education, biology, and social roles. Includes the complete United Nations Declaration on Women's Rights. Contains a good bibliography of periodical articles.

RHAM, EDITH DE. The Love Fraud. New York, Pegasus, 1965. HQ 1420 .D4 1965
" A direct attack on the staggering waste of education and talent among American women", this is concerned with revising the general notion that "being is as satisfactory as doing and that love is a valid substitute for action." Includes a bibliography.

ROIPHE, ANNE RICHARDSON. Up the Sandbox. New York, Simon and Schuster, 1970. PZ 4 .R738 Up
In fiction, Anne Roiphe says more than is often said with fact about a housewife's struggle for her own identity through wild fantasy and an eventual coming to terms with reality. A New York setting in both place and people, makes this a most realistic view of a woman's dilemma.

THOMPSON, MARY LOW, ed. Voices of the New Feminism. Boston, Beacon, 1970. HQ 1426 .V6
Designed as an "educational tool for all women who wish to examine the situation of women in the world today", this has essays by Betty Friedan, Caroline Bird, Shirley Chisholm and others. Includes a lengthy, annotated bibliography.

HISTORY AND CONDITION - U.S.

BARNES, EARL. Women in Modern Society. New York, Huebsch, 1913. 396 B26
A readable and surprisingly modern account of women in industry, education, politics and the family. This contains a good discussion of the suffrage question.

BROCKETT, LINUS. Woman: Her Rights, Wrongs, Privileges and responsibilities. Books for Libraries Press, 1970. HQ 1154 .B835 1970
A reprint of an 1869 publication, this is a highly opinionated history of women including many of the early objections to women's suffrage.

COOPER, ANNA JULIA. A Voice From the South By a Black Woman of the South. New York, Negro Universities Press, 1969. E 185 .6 C77 1969
A reprint of an 1892 work. In narrative style, this discusses the importance of the black woman to the South.

CRATHERN, ALICE TARBELL. In Detroit-Courage was the Fashion. Detroit, Wayne University, 1953. 977.434 C851
A detailed account of woman's place in the history of Detroit.

DEGEN, MARIE LOUISE. The History of the Woman's Peace Party. Baltimore, Johns Hopkins, 1939. 172.4 D36h
The founding of the Women's Peace Party by Jane Addams in 1914 is traced through its development and eventual affiliation with the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. Included are discussions of women's suffrage and references to such notable women as Lillian Wald and Jeannette Rankin.

* FLEXNER, ELEANOR. Century of Struggle: The Woman's Rights Movement in the United States. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard (Belknap), 1959. 324.3 F63c
With emphasis on the last twelve years in the struggle for suffrage, this historical picture of American women views political citizenship as the most important factor in achieving human dignity. Includes information on individual women, women in trade unions and women's organizations.

FOWLER, WILLIAM WORTHINGTON. Woman on the American Frontier. Ann Arbor, Mich., Plutarch Press, 1971. E 176 .F69
This reprint of the 1878 edition contains stories of women in early America: the pioneers, the patriots of the revolution, and the frontier women.

GRIMES, ALAN. The Puritan Ethic and Woman Suffrage. New York, Oxford University Press, 1967. JK 1896 .G7
Answering the question "Why was woman suffrage so successful in the west?", the author explains why woman suffrage was first enacted in Wyoming while the Woman Suffrage Associations were established in the East.

HECKER, EUGENE. A Short Story of Womens Rights. Westport, Conn., Greenwood, 1971. HQ 1121 .H4 1971
A reprint of a 1914 work is a scholarly presentation on the history of women's rights with emphasis on England and the United States.

HOLIDAY, CARL. Woman's Life in Colonial Days. New York, F. Ungar, 1960. 973.2 H72w
A thorough description of the life of the colonial American woman.

KRADITOR, AILEEN S. The Ideas of the Woman Suffrage Movement, 1890-1920. New York, Columbia University, 1965. JK 1896 .K7
A study of the concepts, both intellectual and political which united women of many different ideologies into suffragettes and members of the National American Woman Suffrage Association and other suffragist organizations. Contains an appendix of biographical data on the major suffragettes and a comprehensive bibliography.

* KRADITOR, AILEEN S. Up From the Pedestal: Selected Writings in the History of American Feminism. Chicago, Quadrangle, 1968. HQ 1410 .K7
Beginning with Anne Bradstreet, ending with a statement from NOW and including work from Jane Addams and Thorstein Veblen in-between, this is an effective collection of statements by and about American women. Includes a lengthy and thorough introduction by the editor.

LEBESON, ANITA. Recall to Life - The Jewish Woman in America, South Brunswick, N.J., T. Yoseloff, 1970. DS 115 .2 .L36 1970
The emergence of the Jewish woman as a social force in America and the historic and cultural background which conditioned her are recounted here.

LLOYD, TREVOR. Suffragettes International: The World Wide Campaign for Women's Rights. New York, American Heritage, 1971. HQ 1154 .L58
Many illustrations and photographs offer a vivid chronological portrayal of the suffrage battle.

MASSEY, MARY ELIZABETH. Bonnet Brigades. New York, Knopf, 1966. E 628 .M3
Meant to be an account of the impact of the Civil War on women, this deals with women North and South as it illustrates the advancement gained by women forced to become more "active, self-reliant, and resourceful". Includes many footnotes.

NOUN, LOUISE R. Strong Minded Women. Ames, Iowa, Iowa State University, 1969. JK 1911 .I8N6
Basically a study of the history of woman suffrage in Iowa during Reconstruction, this book also covers 1872-1922 as reflected in the life of Carrie Chapman Catt. Includes a classified bibliography.

O'CONNOR, LILLIAN. Pioneer Women Orators. New York, Columbia University, 1954. 815 .Oc5p
The first women speakers in America spoke for the rights of others, e.g., slaves, before they spoke for the rights of women. This is a history of these women including excerpts from speeches of women such as Lucy Stone and Susan B. Anthony.

O'NEILL, WILLIAM L. Everyone Was Brave. Chicago, Quadrangle, 1969. HQ 1410 .064
Analyzing the suffrage movement, the author acknowledges its accomplishments but clarifies its limitations and notes its failures.

PORTER, KIRK HAROLD. A History of Suffrage in the United States. New York, Greenwood, 1969. JK 1846 .P8 1969
A general history of suffrage including material on woman's suffrage from 1848 to 1918.

RIEGAL, ROBERT EDGAR. American Woman: A Story of Social Change. Rutherford, N.J., Fairleigh Dickinson University, 1970. HQ 1410 .R52
A well-organized, chronological history of the American woman, this contains good notes and a helpful bibliography.

* SCOTT, ANNE FIROR. The American Woman: Who Was She? Englewood, Cliffs, N.J. Prentice-Hall, 1971. HQ 1410 .S3
A valuable collection of documents covering developments in women's education, patterns of work, reform movements and views of family life from the mid-19th century to the present reveals how many recent ideas originated a century ago.

SCOTT, ANNE FIROR. The Southern Lady: From Pedestal to Politics, 1830-1930. Chicago, University of Chicago 1970. HQ 1418 .S38
Not a comprehensive history of the Southern woman, this book defines the image of the "Southern lady" and attempts to show how she has struggled to escape "from the confines of cultural expectation and find a way to self-determination."

* SCOTT, ANNE FIROR. Women in American Life. New York, Houghton Mifflin, 1970. HQ 1410 .S33
A collection of essays reflecting the life of American women from the pueblos of the Southwest to the women's liberationists today. Includes essays by such diverse people as Mari Sandoz, Thomas Jefferson and Shirley Chisholm.

* SMITH, PAGE. Daughters of the Promised Land, Women in American History. Boston, Little, Brown, 1970. HQ 1410 .S6
It is the aim of this author to establish that "American women have indeed a history, moving, dramatic, absorbing....". Contemporary in tone, topics from the home and motherhood to rape, prostitution and birth control are covered. Includes a detailed index and a classified bibliography.

* STANTON, ELIZABETH CADY, comp. History of Woman Suffrage. New York, Source Book Press, 1971. JK 1896 .S8 1970
Originally published over the period from 1881 to 1922, the reprint of this six volume work is indispensable to any study of the suffrage movement. Edited by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony, Ida H. Harper and Matilda Gage, this includes original documents, letters, speeches and writings of the time.

U.S. CONGRESS. HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES. Communist Activities in the Peace Movement (Women Strike for Peace). Washington, U.S. Government Printing Office, 1963. A word for word transcript gives a vivid portrait of women as a political force. HX 86 .A115 .963

WHARTON, ANNE HOLLINGSWORTH. Colonial Days and Dames. Philadelphia, Lippincott, 1895. A good description of women's lives in revolutionary and colonial times, including excerpts from letters and diaries. 973.2 W55

WOODY, THOMAS. A History of Women's Education in the United States. New York, Science Press, 1929. A thick volume, this gives insight into the total education of girls through secondary school. It also includes a section on women and the teaching profession and reveals much about a "woman's place" in early America. 376 W87

HISTORY AND CONDITION - OTHER COUNTRIES

BANKS, JOSEPH AMBROSE. Feminism and Family Planning in Victorian England. New York, Schocken, 1964. 301.424 B22F
Feminine protest, rights of women and attitudes toward sex are all discussed. Includes a bibliography of pamphlets on the Woman Question - Britain - 1792-1880.

BROWN, DONALD R. ed. The Role and Status of Women in the Soviet Union. New York, Teachers College Press, 1968. HQ 1662 .R6
A report of a symposium on the Soviet woman, this includes comparisons with the role of the American woman.

CLEVERDON, CATHERINE LYLE. The Woman Suffrage Movement in Canada. Toronto, University of Toronto Press, 1950. 324.3 C59w
The Canadian struggle for women's suffrage and recognition as "persons" in both the provinces and on the federal level is well documented here.

DODGE, NORTON T. Women in the Soviet Economy. Baltimore, Johns Hopkins, 1966. 396.0947 D66w
A scholarly approach to a detailed, statistical study of women's place in the labor force of the Soviet Union.

HALLE, FANINA W. Woman in Soviet Russia. London, Routledge, 1933. 396.0947 H15w
A comprehensive history of Russian women from ancient times through the communist revolution, this includes discussions of peasant liberation, free love, marriage, and family life.

HUDSON, KENNETH. The Place of Women in Society. London, Ginn, 1970. HQ 1593 .H83
A succinct history of women with emphasis on Britain includes many photographs.

MORRIS, HOMER LAWRENCE. Parliamentary Franchise Reform in England from 1885-1918. New York, AMS, 1969. H 31 .L7 No.218
The development of woman's suffrage in England from 1885 to the passage of the Woman's Suffrage Act of 1918.

MORTON, WARD M. Woman Suffrage in Mexico. Gainesville, Fla., 1962. JL 1289 M6
Using a case study approach the author presents a picture of the Mexican woman -- from the poorest mother to the well-educated woman.

STENTON, DORIS MARY. The English Woman in History. New York, Macmillan, 1957. 396.0942 STHe
An examination of the life style of the English woman from Anglo-Saxon through feudal through Renaissance through modern times.

WARD, BARBARA. Women in the New Asia. Paris, UNESCO, 1963. HQ 1732 .w3
A collection of studies by different authors, this attempts to describe the impact of the new status of women on the everyday lives of men and women in South and Southeast Asia. Contains studies of women's emancipation movements.

SOCIOLOGY - ANTHROPOLOGY

BEARD, MARY. On Understanding Women. New York, Greenwood, 1968 (1931). Comprehensive evaluation of women's roles from primitive times through the industrial revolution. Helpful bibliography. — HQ 1122 .B4 1968

BERNARD, JESSIE SHIRLEY. Academic Women. University Park, Pa., Pennsylvania State University Press, 1964, A sociological analysis of academic women, their relationship to academic men, each other, and their families. Includes appendices with specific studies and statistics. — 378.12 B45a

CARSON, JOSEPHINE. Silent Voices. New York, Delacorte, 1969. She is "woman and black". She is also southern in this readable, emotional outpouring of the development of "the only person in the South today who greets all Southerners." No index or bibliography. — E 185 .86 .C3

EPSTEIN, CYNTHIA FUCHS. Woman's Place. Berkeley, Calif., University of California Press, 1970. A thorough sociological study of women in the working world, especially the professions, this contains much factual data as well as analysis of family structure, class stratification and the effects of sex status. — HD 6095 .E64

* FERRISS, ABBOT L. Indicators of Trends in the Status of American Women. New York, Russell Sage Foundation, 1971. An overwhelming amount of data is clearly presented in an attempt to see if the change in the objective status of women might be responsible for the increase in protest movements and feminist activities. The answer seems to be no. Valuable data and analysis is included in the areas of education, marital status, population change, employment, income and health. — Ref. HQ 1420 .F4

FIGES, EVA. Patriarchal Attitudes. New York, Stein and Day, 1970. A serious discussion of the role of women in society, this becomes also a discussion of men as the author contends that the image of women is that which has been created by men. Contains historical, anthropological and literary material. — HQ 1121 .F53

GAVRON, HANNAH. The Captive Wife. London, Routledge, 1966. The study of British working class and middle class mothers with young children includes historical and social background material on women in the past one hundred fifty years. — HQ 1596 .G3

GEBHARD, PAUL H. The Sexuality of Women. London, Andre Deutsch, 1970. An anthropologist, a medical doctor and a psychiatrist researched sexual behavior in America under the auspices of the Institute of Sex Research formerly headed by Alfred Kinsey. Here are lectures on the findings of that research and the implications for American women. — HQ 29 .G413

* GINZBURG, ELI. Lifestyles of Educated Women, New York, Columbia University, 1966. 301.42 G43L
A thorough study by the Conservation of Human Resources Project examines options, decisions, satisfactions and fulfillment in a selected group of women.

* GINZBURG, ELI. Educated American Women: Self-Portraits. New York, Columbia University, 1966. 331.4 G43e
As a companion to his Lifestyles of Educated Women, this presents personalized narrations by the women studied in the first volume and offers insight into the problems of the emancipated American woman.

LOPATA, HELEN ZNANIECKI. Occupation: Housewife. New York, Oxford University Press, 1971. HQ 1420 .L66
A detailed sociological study of housewives in Chicago suburbs provides much substantive information on the role of wife, housewife and mother in America.

* MEAD, MARGARET. Male and Female. New York, Morrow, 1949. This is "a world made not by men alone...but a world made by mankind for human beings of both sexes." In this classic anthropological work, Mead substantiates her statement with discussions of maleness and femaleness, biological and psychological factors, different social patterns and the relationship between the sexes. 392 M46

* MONTAGU, ASHLEY. The Natural Superiority of Women. New York, Macmillan, 1968. HQ 1206 .M65 1968
Along with an annotated bibliography, this well-known work presents a readable discourse on women and a plea for social equality of the sexes.

PARSONS, ELSIE. The Old-Fashioned Woman: Primitive Fancies About the Sex. New York Putnam's, 1913. An interesting discussion of basic assumptions held about woman in relation to her creation, parents, dress and males. 396.09 P25o

RAINWATER, LEE. Workingman's Wife: Her Personality, World and Lifestyle. New York, Oceana, 1959. Detailed social-psychological study of the wives of blue collar workers offers insight into the problems in activating these women. 396.60973 R13w

SCHUR, EDWIN. The Family and the Sexual Revolution. Bloomington, Indiana, Indiana University, 1964. 301.4208 Sch 8f
A compendium of articles on changing sex standards, the "woman problem" and birth control. Includes work by Bertrand Russell, A.S. Neill, Bruno Bettelheim and Margaret Mead. A comprehensive, useful collection on this subject.

SEWARD, GEORGENE H. AND ROBERT C. WILLIAMSON, eds. Sex Roles in Changing Society. New York, Random House, 1970. HQ 1154 .S45
A scholarly presentation of articles on the development of sex-role patterns in varied societies with special emphasis on women's role as a person of "minority" status.

STUART, MARTHA AND WILLIAM T. LIU. The Emerging Woman: The Impact of Family Planning. Boston, Little, Brown, 1970. HQ 1106 1970 .E6
Based on conference papers, this collection of essays includes work on the "contraceptive culture", men and women working together, "education for real living". Participant essayists include Jacqueline Grennan and Masters and Johnson.

PSYCHOLOGY

* BARDWICK, JUDITH M. Psychology of Women: A Study of Bio-Cultural Conflicts, New York, Harper, 1971. HQ 1206 .B23
In writing a book about woman's self-esteem, the lack of it and its effect on her, the author also examines woman's passivity, dependency and motivations. Scholarly in tone, this includes a lengthy bibliography.

CHASSEGUET-SMIRGEL, JANINE. Female Sexuality: New Psychoanalytic Views. Ann Arbor, Mich., University of Michigan, 1970. BF 692 .C513
An attempt to understand the psychology of love and the psychology of sex within the scope of psychoanalysis is reflected in these technical essays on subjects such as "masculine mythology of femininity".

HARDING, MARY ESTHER. The Way of All Women. New York, Putnam's, 1970. HQ 1206 .H25 1970
Helping women to understand themselves, the author uses a Jungian approach in a discussion of friendship, marriage, maternity and the psychological relationship between woman and man.

HORNEY, KAREN. Feminine Psychology. New York, W.W. Norton, 1967. HQ 1206 .H6
A collection of Horney's essays confronting the male-oriented Freudian psychoanalytic theories with her own analysis of the basis for feminine problems.

PARKER, ELIZABETH. The Seven Ages of Woman. Baltimore, Johns Hopkins, 1960. 396 P22s
Shorn of scientific terminology, this is a good description of feminine physiology and psychology.

SHERMAN, JULIA. On the Psychology of Women. Springfield, Illinois, 1971. HQ 1206 .S48
An objective examination of the female life cycle, this has a distinctly biological emphasis. Contains a lengthy annotated bibliography.

ECONOMIC AND LEGAL STATUS

* BIRD, CAROLINE. Born Female: The High Cost of Keeping Women Down. New York, McKay, 1968. HQ 1426 .B5 1970
A readable presentation dealing with the practical problems of working women, especially career oriented women. Includes helpful chapter notes.

CAIN, GEORGE. Married Women in the Labor Force. Chicago, University of Chicago, 1966. 331.43 C12m
A research study of married working women that is replete with statistics for white and nonwhite women.

CAMPBELL, HELEN. Prisoners of Poverty. Westport, Conn., Greenwood, 1970. HD 6053 .C18 1970b
A reprint of the 1887 edition. In language of the time, this is a personal view of women in employment--in domestic service, hospitals and the trades.

DUVERGER, MAURICE. The Political Role of Women. Paris, UNESCO, 1955. 396.9 D95p
A report of the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women survey of 1953 which attempted to examine the extent to which legal equality of the sexes was accompanied by real equality.

* FRANCIS, PHILLIP. The Legal Status of Women. Dobbs Ferry, New York, Oceana, 1965. Ref. KF 477 .A33 1963
A practical reference tool deals with women's legal rights in specific areas, e.g., voting privileges, divorce, transfers of personal property. Includes an outline of laws according to state.

GRUBERG, MARTIN. Women in American Politics. Oshkosh, Wis., Academia, 1968. HQ 1236 .G7
A well-organized study of the position of women in American life since the nineteenth amendment. Contains tables with the names of women who have held important state and national offices.

KANOWITZ, LEO. Women and the Law: The Unfinished Revolution. Albuquerque, New Mexico, University of New Mexico Press, 1969. KF 478 .K3
The author has succeeded in writing a book which promotes an "awareness of the many areas of sex-based legal discrimination". Included is detailed information on specific laws and acts such as those concerned with marriage, prostitution, rape and employment.

KREPS, JUANITA. Sex in the Marketplace: American Women at Work. Baltimore, Johns Hopkins, 1971. Raising and answering questions about women's work role, the author's concerns include when women work, at what jobs and under what circumstances. Includes statistical information as well as a bibliography. HD 6095 .K76

LOPATE, CAROL. Women in Medicine. Baltimore, Johns Hopkins, 1968. R 692 .L65
A thorough study of why so few American women have gone into medicine, what women can offer the profession and what efforts are necessary to bring them into the field. Includes statistical data.

NATIONAL MANPOWER COUNCIL. Womanpower. New York, Columbia University, 1957. 331.4 N21w
A comprehensive study of the role of women in the working population, this includes discussions of employment trends, the impact of World War II on women's employment, places of employment shortage and work in the lives of women. Although the information is no longer current, this gives an accurate background picture of women's employment conditions.

PARK, MAUD WOOD. Front Door Lobby. Boston, Beacon, 1960. An inside view of women's efforts in Washington to pass the nineteenth amendment, this is written by the first president of the National League of Women Voters. 324.3 P21f

* REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT'S TASK FORCE ON WOMEN'S RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES. A Matter of Simple Justice. Washington, U.S. Government Printing Office, 1970. KF 478 .A68
The Task Force report recommends a "national committment to basic changes that will bring women into the mainstream of American life". Among the suggested changes are an Office of Women's Rights and Responsibilities, enforcement of the Civil Rights Act with regard to sex discrimination and tax deductions for child care. This is an essential document for any study on the status of women in the U.S. today.

SMUTS, ROBERT W. Women and Work in America. New York, Columbia University Press, 1959. 331.4 Sm8w
A concise sociological analysis of women's work, women who work and work values and attitudes.

U.S. CONGRESS. SENATE COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY. Washington, U.S. Government Printing Office, 1970. Equal Rights 1970: Proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the United States Relative to Equal Rights for Men and Women. KF 26 .J8 1970
This modern day government document provides an overall view of American attitudes toward equal rights for women. Includes original testimony of hearings.

U.S. WOMEN'S BUREAU. Laws on Sex Discrimination in Employment. Washington, U.S. Department of Labor, 1970. Ref. KF 3467 .A85
This document states the actual laws operating today and cites cases used to validate these laws. Includes state and federal fair employment practice laws.

ECONOMIC AND LEGAL STATUS

U.S. WOMEN'S BUREAU. Trends in Educational Attainment of Women. Washington, U.S. Department of Labor, 1969. LC 1751 .A3

A collection of charts and statistics provide hard data on the relationship between education and job participation of women, but offer few interpretive comments.

BIOGRAPHY

ANDERSON, MARY. Women at work. Minneapolis, Minn., University of Minnesota, 1951. 331.4 An2.4a
The autobiography of Mary Anderson, director of the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor from its beginning to 1944, offers much insight into the movements in the U.S. which benefitted women workers.

BLUEMEL, ELINOR. Florence Sabin. Boulder, Colo., University of Colorado, 1959. 610.92 Sa 1.48
As a readable biography of Dr. Sabin, a scientist, a medical doctor and the first woman to receive a full professorship at Johns Hopkins, this is also a story of the suffrage movement in the early 1900's, especially in Baltimore.

BURNETT, CONSTANCE. Five for Freedom. New York, Greenwood, 1968. HQ 1412 .B8 1968
In narrative style, individual sections are devoted to the lives of women who pioneered in the suffrage movement - Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Lucy Stone, Susan B. Anthony and Carrie Chapman Catt.

CATT, CARRIE CHAPMAN. Woman Suffrage and Politics. Seattle, Wash., University of Washington, 1969. JK 1896 .C3 1969
A reprint of the 1923 edition written by one of the leaders in the woman suffrage movement as she reflects on her fight in the year after passage of the Nineteenth Amendment. Clear writing and a personal view, in addition to much detail, make this a valuable resource.

CHISHOLM, SHIRLEY. Unbought and Unbossed. New York, Houghton, 1970. E 840 .8 .C48A3
An autobiography by the first black congresswoman maintains a personalized tone while detailing the serious problems arising from minority status as a black and as a woman.

* GOLDMAN, EMMA. Living My Life. New York, Knopf, 1931. 335 G56L
The autobiography of an anarchist, a social revolutionary and a very "liberated woman".

* HARPER, IDA HUSTED. The Life and Work of Susan B. Anthony. Indianpolis, Ind., Hollenbeck, 1898. 324.3 An8.4h
Written during her lifetime and based on primary source material, this story of Susan B. Anthony is also a history of women in America.

* IRELAND, NORMA OLIN. Index to Women of the World From Ancient to Modern Times: Biographies and Portraits. Westwood, Mass. F.W. Faxon, 1970. Ref. Z 7963 .B6173
This lists 13,000 women, living and dead and the collective biographies which contain articles about them. Also includes some magazine articles. Excellent for women in ancient times and early American women. The contemporary American women listed include actresses but do not include women political figures or the current women's liberation leaders.

JONES, KATHERINE M. Heroines of Dixie. New York, Bobbs-Merrill, 1955. 973.782
The story of the life of Confederate women is told through excerpts J 71.6h from their own writings.

MOORE, FRANK. Women of the War: Their Heroism and Self-Sacrifice. 973.776
Hartford, Conn., S.S. Scranton, 1867. M78
Most histories of wars are "records of the achievements of men". This record of the Civil War is a record of the women who shared in the war experience. The biographical approach offers much information on women's organizations as well as individuals. Unfortunately, there is no index.

* NOTABLE AMERICAN WOMEN, 1607-1950. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Ref.
(Belknap), 1971. CT
Coverage begins in 1607, the date of the beginning of the American 3260 colonies and ends with women who died no later than 1950. All .N57 women included, 1,359, except for the wives of American presidents, are included because of their own, not their husband's accomplishment. Based on the excellent Women's Archives at Radcliffe, the articles are detailed and well-written in this three volume work.

PANKHURST, ESTELLE SYLVIA. The Life of Emmeline Pankhurst. New York, JN
Krauss, 1969. 979
First published in 1935, this is a personal view of one leader in .P28
the fight for woman's suffrage. P3
1969

RANDALL, MERCEDES. Improper Bostonian. New York, Twayne, 1964. 811
A comprehensive biography of Emily Greene Balch, winner of the B18.4r
Nobel Peace Prize in 1946 and one of the first to organize American women to "think internationally", this is also a biography of women's political movements after 1914.

ROSS, NANCY WILSON. Westward the Women. Freeport, N.Y. In this account F of the women who settled the West--both those who followed men and 596
those missionaries who went on their own, the author presents a .R82 picture of some very liberated women and ends with some thoughts .970 on their influence today. Books for Libraries Press, 1970.

RIEGEL, ROBERT. American Feminists. Lawrence, Kansas, University of 396
Kansas, 1963. R44a
A description of pioneer American feminists in terms of the historic factors which made them crusaders. Includes a helpful bibliography.

WHITTON, MARY. These Were the Women. New York, Hastings House, 920.7
1954. W61t
A record of women, from the American Revolution to the Civil War who played an important part in U.S. political history.

BIOGRAPHY

* WHO'S WHO OF AMERICAN WOMEN. Chicago, Marquis, 1964-1972. Ref. CT 3260 .W5 3D

A biennial publication, this contains short listings of strictly informational material about living American women. Includes those women listed in the previous issue and women most likely to be of reference interest in the future. Thus far, some prominent women in the women's movement today have not been included.

WILLARD, FRANCES ELIZABETH. A Woman of the Century. Detroit,, Gale, 1967. Ref. E 176 .W691 1967

This reprint of an 1893 work contains 1,470 biographical sketches of leading American women. Includes portraits.